ALL OUT OF DANGER

INJURED MEMBERS OF WELLS FAMILY GETTING ALONG NICELY.

CAUSED BY BURSTED TIRE

Were Going at Moderate Speed and Driving Carefully — Mrs. Nixon Returned Wednesday.

Mrs. I. W. Nixon, who was in the automobile accident south of Savannah Wednesday morning, when she accompanied her sister, Mrs. W. R. Wells, and son, Burman, and daughters, Misses Marie and Kathleen Wells, for a day's trip to St. Joseph, returned to Maryville Wednesday night.

Mrs. Nixon was able to be about her house Thursday morning, and is not suffering greatly from the bruises she received. She left her sister and other members of the family injured in Ensworth hospital at St. Joseph, and all were doing as well as the physicians could expect. A telephone message to her Thursday morning from the hospital Thursday morning, said that Mrs. Wells, Burman and Miss Marie, whose injuries were the most severe, had passed a restful night, and that the physicians in charge of their case consider them entirely out of danger.

Miss Marie's injuries are the most severe. There was a compound fracture of her right foot. The physicians removed several pieces of crushed bone while preparing the member to place in splints. Her body is badly bruised and she will have to remain at the hospital for several days before she will be able to be brought to her home in this city.

Mrs. Wells is doing very nicely. All of her injuries were about the head and shoulder. Her collar bone was not broken as reported and wounds on her face and about her eyes are not deep enough to cause disfigurement. She will be able to return home in a short time.

The 7-inch wound that Burman Wells received on the back of his head was not dangerous, other than it severed an artery and the loss of blood was his greatest danger. He is getting along and is able to walk about the hospital.

Miss Kathleen Wells escaped without injury of any kind, other than the fright.

Mrs. Nixon said that the account given in The Democrat-Forum Wednesday of the accident was practically correct, with the exception that where the report was given that the injured ones were unconscious until within a few minutes of the time they were taken to St. Joseph is not correct. She says that none of them were unconscious excepting Mrs. Wells, who lost consciousness for only a few minutes.

Mrs. Nixon also denies that her nephew was speeding the machine, as has been reported. She says they were going down hill at a moderate pace and the accident was caused by a flat tire, which they believed had been in that condition for some distance, as was shown by the condition of the tire upon examination after the accident.

Mr. W. R. Wells of this city, who had remained at home, joined his family in St. Joseph by train Wednesday evening and will remain until they are able to be brought home. His sons, Harry and Robert Wells, who drove to the scene of the accident in their car, left St. Joseph for home at 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

The entire Wells family and Mrs. Nixon are surprised that no deaths occurred, and are grateful that things are as well with them as they are, and all who were in Wednesday's accident are in cheerful mood and taking their injuries in the best possible manner.

Harry and Robert Wells returned to Maryville this afternoon from St. Joseph, about 2:30 o'clock. Mr. Wells stated his mother, sister and brother are not badly injured and are getting along nicely. He stated that the cause of the accident was two tires on the left side of the car burst at the same time, there being a hole in one tire ten inches long and one in the other five inches long. He said that the machine was not going more than fifteen miles an hour.

The automobile was not as badly damaged as one would expect. The hind wheel was broken, the two front fenders bent, the wind shield broken, and the steering wheel bent, and also the front axle. Since there was insurance on the car the insurance company took charge of the machine and is having the car repaired.

Burman Wells, one of the parties hurt in the accident, will come home from St. Joseph this evening, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wells in their car.

CAME HERE TO GET MARRIED.

But Being Under Age, Recorder Wray Would Not Issue the License.

Leon Groff, age 18, and Miss Pearl Dunlap, age 17, of Laurel, Ia., near Marshalltown, came to Maryville Thursday morning for the purpose of being married. They applied to Recorder Wray for a marriage license, and when they gave their ages Mr. Wray promptly informed them that they could not get a license here unless they had the consent of their parents. The young lady told Mr. Wray that she did not have her parents' consent, so Mr. Wray did not grant the license.

A short time after this Mr. Wray received a telegram from the cheriff at Marshalltown, Ia., wanting to know if these parties had secured the license. Mr. Wray replied and told the sheriff that they had not.

The young couple eloped from home and the young girl's parents were strongly opposed to the match, because of their youth. They left Maryville Thursday morning on the Wabash train and the young man said that he was going to marry the girl or break a string. They were returning to their home.

UNCLE SAM IS AFTER THEM.

Individuals Who Have Been Using Postoffice to Conceal Identity Will Be Sopped.

No more flirtations via the general delivery window! Bessie and Mabel and Maudie can't get mail at the general delivery window from the handsome traveling man they met without ma and pa knowing all about it, says the Columbia Daily Tribune. Neither can pa have his mail delivered down at the general delivery window to keep ma from seeing where it is from.

The man who "found" your dog can't have you address him through the general delivery any more.

Uncle Sam has sent out orders to the postmasters to see that the general delivery windows are not used for such purpose.

The attention of postmasters at offices having city carrier service is called to the section in the postal laws and regulations, compliance with which should prevent the improper use of the general delivery by residents, the order reads. It further says the postmasters at such offices may require all persons supposed to be residents to furnish in writing their names and addresses and statements of their reasons for preferring to be served at the general delivery.

The order issued is also designed to stop flirting and other clandestine correspondence carried on through the general delivery.

The order also refers to minors, and says the parents should be notified if their children are acting suspicious about their mail. This last order has always been in effect.

The order further reads:

Postmasters at offices not having city carrier service may notify the parents of minors in all instances where it appears that the miners are calling at the general delivery for mail under objectionable circumstances.

Section 625 postal laws and regulations should be carefully observed in cases where fictitious names are used.

General delivery clerks should be instructed to use their best judgment and to submit to the postmaster any case concerning which they are in doubt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Joy of Elmo spent Thursday in the city.

DON'T LIKE WRITE-UP

MRS. MARTS OBJECTS TO TRIBUNE REPORTER'S VERSION OF STORY

NO SLOP BUCKET THERE

When She Said She Didn't Know He Told Her "You Know if You Wanted to Tell."

Indignant at the way in which the Tribune has been "playing up" the facts of her life, and especially over the way in which the article in that paper for Monday, July 29th, was written, Mrs. Al Marts writes the following letter of self-defense to The Democrat-Forum:

To The Democrat-Forum: In regard to the piece that was in the Tribune, there was several lies in it. If the history of my life was put in that paper as it really was, I wouldn't care so much; but there hasn't been one piece put in that paper correct. As for me pulling little 2-year-old Hazel from the slop bucket once in a while, there was no slop bucket in the house. And all those questions were asked me. I answered some of them, but the most of them were answered in this way. "The least said the better."

MRS. MARTS.

In talking to a reporter of The Democrat-Forum, Mrs. Marts was very bitter against the Tribune's treatment of her case.

"They never wrote a thing like I told it," she said. "That man stayed here about an hour asking me all kinds of questions, and I said I didn't know, and he said, 'You know if you wanted to tell.' That thing about the slop bucket makes me feel bad and makes people think this house is as dirty as a hog pen, which it isn't."

And it wasn't, either. Everything was as neat and clean as could be. Mrs. Marts was ironing, and little piles of baby clothes, simple yet dainty, and spotless in their fluffy cleanliness only served to bring out more strongly than ever the good housewifery that kept the place in order.

On being questioned as to whether she would bring any action against Mr. Marts, she said:

"I don't know. I don't think I will."

Mrs. Marts said that she did not know yet when she would leave nor to what place she would go.

OPENING OF THE PICNIC.

Barnard Three Days' Affair Commenced Thursday—Program Given by Normal.

The three days' picnic at Barnard opened Thursday morning. There was a big crowd, as large as any crowd present on the opening day of picnics of past years.

The program at today's picnic was given by the Normal. After the program, the Normal base ball team played a game of ball with the Barnard team.

Friday and Saturday will be political days, and many speeches will be given by the candidates. Congressman Booher is to speak Saturday, as will also his opponent, B. R. Martin.

Only 12 Marriage Licenses for Month.

Recorder Wray did not have a rushing business for July issuing marriage licenses. There were only twelve licenses granted as compared with seventeen issued in July, 1911.

Mrs. R. M. Black went to St. Joseph Wednesday to meet her son, S. E. Black of Kansas City, who brought his three children that far on their way for a visit in Maryville of several weeks with their grandparents.

RAINFALL BELOW NORMAL.

July Record Was BaBd, Only One Rain of Consequence Having Fallen During the Month.

The July rainfall was far below the average, amounting to only 1.09 inches. Rain has fallen on eight days in that month, but there was only one good rain, on July 21, when .75 of an inch fell. The following are the days in that month when rain fell:

July 6, .15 of an inch; July 13, .1; July 21, .75; July 27, .05; July 29, .04.

The hottest days in the month were July 14, when the temperature went up to 102, and July 23, when it was 100.

The rainfall for July of last year amounted to 3.38 inches, the drought of last year having been broken by a good rain on July 23, and another one a few days later. But the temperature of last July went away up to 108, that being on July 5. There were seven days about that date when the temperature was 100 or more.

For June, 1912, the rainfall was 2.16 inches.

MERCHANTS ARE FOR IT.

Strong in Favor of the "White Way" for Main Street—To Come Up at City Council.

The business men along the west side of the square are in favor of the "White Way," and have promised to help out in buying the posts and lights for this one block. The county court will be seen about helping out on the west side of the court house yard, and if favorable, then steps will be taken to put in the lights for this one block.

The matter will probably be put up to the city council at their meeting Friday evening. The people interested think that if they can get the "White Way" started that other business men would join in getting it for their block. A representative of King's foundry at St. Joseph, K. G. Rennie, was in the city Thursday, talking the matter of the "White Way" up with several people.

SEVERAL ARRESTS MADE

By Marshal Moberly of Auto Drivers Who Are Violating Auto Ordinance.

Four warrants were issued Thursday for the arrest of autoists charged with violating the auto ordinance adopted some weeks ago by the city council. They were for F. P. Reuillard, charged with running his car without a tail light; Dr. McLoud, charged with the same offense as Mr. Reuillard; Charles Moore, also charged with the same offense, and A. O. Mason, charged with exceeding the speed limit.

Marshal Moberly and the city authorities intend to enforce the auto ordinance, and are to use every effort to do so. Many complaints have been made by the people in regard to the fast driving by the autoists.

Miss Marie Livasy of Pickering came to Maryville Wednesday evening and is a guest at the home of her siser, Mrs. Frank Ewing, and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Snodgrass, where two other young girls, from Kansas City, Miss Blanche Ewing and Miss Violet Sheehan, are visiting.

Required to Take Oath They Will Support Nominees of Party, So Attorney General Says.

In a letter written by Campbell Cummins, assistant attorney general at Jefferson City, he gave it as his opinion that those that signed the Roosevelt petitions for the new party would be unable to vote at the primary to be held on next Tuesday. The letter read as follows:

We are in receipt of your favor of the 17th inst. relative to the right of Roosevelt petitioners to vote at the coming primary of the Republicans and Democrats, and to the right of challenging the same.

Your inquiry is answered by section 5871, R. S., 1909, which reads as follows:

"No persons shall be entitled to vote at any primary unless a qualified elector of the precinct and duly registered therein, if registration thereat be required by law, and known to affiliate with the political party named at the head of the ticket he calls for, and attempts to vote, or obligates himself to support the nominees of said party at the following general election."

In addition to this, section 5873, R. S., 1909, contains the following provisions:

"It shall be the duty of the challengers to challenge and the duty of the judges of the election to reject the ballot of any person attempting to vote other than the ticket of the party with which he is known to affiliate, unless such person, when challenged, obligates himself by oath or affirmation, administered by one of the judges, to support the party nominees of the ticket he is voting in the following general election. All judges of election shall have authority and are empowered to administer such oath or affirmation, and any person offering to vote who shall fail or refuse to take or make such oath or affirmation when demanded by such challenger, or required by any judge, shall not be allowed to vote at such primary election." Very truly yours,

CAMPBELL CUMMINS,

CANAL OPENING MAY BE DELAYED

Grave Fears Big Ditch Will Not be Ready io 1913.

CONGRESS IS HOLDING BACK

Unless Contention Over Tolls is Settled Quickly Army Engineers See No Hope of Finishing Work in Time.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Unless congress takes action to provide for the operation of the Panama canal at the present session, President Taft and Secretary of War Stimson believe it will be practically impossible for the army engineers to keep their promise to open "the big ditch" to the ships of the world next year.

According to the information just brought to the White house the prespect of action by congress on canal legislation at this session is growing dimmer.

There seems little contention over the proposed administration and operation of the canal, but the questions of tolls and of railroad owned steamships have stirred up controversy in both houses, and neither the president nor his secretary of war seem hopeful of settling it.

Bill Referred Again.

The Panama bill was put aside again in the senate after Senator Brandegee, who is guiding it, stated that adjournment probably would be hastened if it were considered in the senate while the postoffice bill was in conference; but the only ray of comfort that flitted through to the White house was the news that Representative Adamson of Georgia, chairman of the house committee on interstate commerce, was considering the introduction of a joint resolution providing for the machinery of administration and operation of the canal. Mr. Adamson was understood to be ready to bring in such a resolution, whenever it becomes apparent that there is no chance of a compromise and the two houses become deadlocked over the other questions.

President is Worried.

President Taft was much concerned over the prospect of a delay in the opening of the canal.

In many speeches he has made since he became president, he has predicted that the Atlanic and the Pacific would be joined at Panama in 1913 and at one time the president believed that he would be able to steam through the canal on the old battleship Oregon, when the formal opening was celebrated, during his present term in the White house.

So far the president has refused to write a special message to congress on the subject of the canal. Within the last few days, however, members of the house have notified him they would oppose any legislation in regard to Panama that did not settle all the matters involved. It is now said that he might decide to send in a special message.

MR. TAFT OFFICIALLY NOTIFIED

With Much Pomp and Ceremony Committee Informs President of His Nomination.

Washington, August 1.—With all the ceremony and political pomp with which the occasion has been invested by successive years of Republican administration, President Taft was officially notified today that he had been selected as the presidential nominee of the Republican party for the coming term of office.

Attired in a suit of summer flannels, Mr. Taft received the notification committee of the Republican national committee, headed by Senator Root, on the rear portico of the White House overlooking the Elipse and the Washington monument. The president listened to the report of the notification committee and then replied at length, pledging his support to the party and thanking it individually and collectively for the honor which was conferred upon him at Chicago. During the president's speech the members of the committee grouped themselves around the lower step of the portico and listened attentively to the remarks of the chief executive.

The formalities were opened with a short address by Senator Root, in which the permanent chairman of the convention told of the choice of President Taft as the nominee and then formally tendered the nomination—nicely engraved on parchment—to the chief executive.

TRY TO FORCE INTERVENTION

Mexican Rebels Hung Two Americans Within Forty Eight Hours.

OROZCO HAS BECOME DEFIANT

Ignores United States Consul and Refuses to Recognize Government —Salazar Fails to Stop Looting.

Mexico City, Aug. 1.—Two Americans were hanged near Cananea, Sonora, within the past 48 hours. Their bodies were found and the incident reported to President Madero by the governor of Sonora. The governor has ordered an investigation. He believes the two men were executed by rebels in order to precipitate American intervention. The victims have not been identified.

Executed for Robbing Mormons.

Casas Grandes, Chihuahua, Aug. 1.—Rebel soldiers looted many homes of Mormons near here. Nearly all of the Mormon families have fled to El Paso. Although General Salazar had two of his soldiers executed for robbing Mormons, he has not made any attempt to stop his men looting the unprotected homes of Americans.

Orozco is Haughty.

Juarez, Mex., Aug. 1.—Gen. Pascual Orozco, commander-in-chief of the Mexican rebels coolly declared that he did not recognize the United States government. He made the remark to Thomas Edwards, American consul here, who called at the rebel leader's quarters to deliver a message from Secretary of State Knox.

The message from Washington, belated through diplomatic channels, was regarding the treatment of the American settlers in northern Mexico by the rebels, growing out of the disarming of the Mormon colonists last week.

Gen. Arozco told the consul that he did not receive him as a representative of the United States, which government, Orozco said, he did not recognize. However, he was glad to see Mr. Edwards, he said, and to receive him as an American citizen. Orozco accepted the message from the American consul without further comment. Edwards then excusing himself, left the room.

Refugees Still Fleeing.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 1.—Another special train bearing 400 refugees from the American settlements in the Casas Grandes district has just arrived here. This makes more than 1,500 refugees, mostly women and children, stranded in this city.

The refugees report that at Pearson, 260 miles southwest of the border, hundreds of refugees are mobilizing from the mountain settlements. A group of 100 arriving at Pearson from Colonia Garcia reported that three babies were born on the journey, the mothers suffering great hardships on the ride in rough farm wagons.

FARMER ASKS POISON INQUIRY

Owner of Missouri Farm Where 19 Have Been Made Sick, Wants to Know Cause.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 1.—A series of mysterious poisonings at the home of J. R. Giddons, a farmer near here were reported to the county authorities by Mr. Giddons, who asked that an investigation be made.

Within the last month 19 persons have been poisoned there, but there has been only one death, Mrs. Laura Leavitt, the aged mother of Giddons.

Sixteen neighbors who remained all night with the family took breakfast there and an hour later 14 of them were taken violently ill.

Several days ago a family traveling across the country in a covered wagon stopped at Giddons' house for the night and next morning all became so ill they were sent to a hospital.

At first it was believed the water from the well on the place was contaminated, but an alalysis proved it to be of more than average purity. Samples of milk also were shown to be pure and the case is baffling the entire neighborhood.

LUMBER TRUST IS NOT A MYTH

REPORT OF MISSOURI SPECIAL COMMISSIONER FILED.

Twenty-Nine Companies Are Declared Guilty of Violating Anti-Trust Laws of State.

Jefferson City, Aug 1.—Under the finding of the special supreme court commissioner, Robert M. Reynolds, just filed with the clerk of the Missouri supreme court, 29 lumber companies doing business in this state are guilty of violating the anti-trust and anti-discrimination laws. Of that number 22 are Missouri corporations in Kansas City and St. Louis, seven are outside corporations doing business in this state under a license.

The original prosecution against the lumber companies was instituted by Gov. Hadley while he was attorney general and included 42 companies. Some of them have ceased to do business and were dropped from the prosecution from time to time. Attorney General Major took up the prosecution, and, assisted by the late Judge James B. Gantt and the assistant attorney general, John M. Atkinson, devoted some 15 months to getting evidence.

Although several states have instituted proceedings under anti-trust laws against lumber companies alleged to be in an unlawful combination, the present is the first decisive victory for the prosecution.

In this it seems, as in the suits against the oil companies and the harvester trust, Missouri has taken the initiative and succeeded. Judge Reynold's finding will, of course, have to be approved by the supreme court and that tribunal, if it affirms his rulings, will specify the punishment to be inflicted, which will be a fine in each case, or a fine and ouster combined.

FRISCO'S "METEOR" IN DITCH

Three Coaches Upside Down at Bottom of Deep Fill—27 Injured. But None Killed.

Springfield, Mo., Aug. 1.—Leaving the track just after the engine had passed over a bridge between Wetumba and Alabama, Ok., three coaches of Frisco passenger train No. 510, known as the Meteor, were overturned and lay upside down at the foot of a 50-foot fill. Eight white passengers and 19 negroes were injured in the wreck, although it is believed, from reports received here, that none will result fatally. The passengers injured were riding in the second class compartments or in the combination smoker-coach. A chair car, one Pullman and the private car of E. Levy, Frisco assistant general manager remained intact.

Trailed a Thief 2,000 Miles.

Calgary, Alberta, Aug. 1.—Pursued for four months through the wilds of northern Canada by members of the Northwest Mounted Police, Will Ropp, said by the authorities to be the most notorious rustler and cattle thief in the wester country, has been arrested and is in the barracks here awaiting trial. The chase covered nearly 2,000 miles and was remarkable for the persistency with which the police followed the trail of the fugitive through the trackless northwest country.

Atchison, Kan., Aug. 1.—Atchison merchants decided to have one of the old time corn carnivals this fall, the same kind that Ed Howe started several years ago. The carnival will be held three days in the latter part of September. The prospects for a large corn crop make it possible.

MORE MONEY FOR MILITIA

Pepper Bill Would Give Missouri and Kansas Guards Increase.

INTENDED TO IMPROVE SERVICE

Proposed Law Will Place Men on Same Footing as Regular Army, With Rewards for Faithful Attention to Drills.

Washington, Aug. 1.—A total of $414,838 will be placed in the pockets of the members of the national guard of Missouri and Kansas annually in addition to the pay now received by the citizen soldiers if the Pepper militia pay bill becomes a law. The bill is explained in an exhaustive report submitted to the house by Representative Pepper of Iowa.

The amount Missouri would receive under the proposed law is $290,678 and Kansas, $124,160. The present appropriation to the guard of the various states is $4,000,000 annually. Adding this to the additional appropriation provided by the Pepper bill, based upon a maximum of $8,000,000, would make a total of $12,000,000.

For a War Footing.

The most important feature of the Pepper bill, and one that appeals to guardsmen throughout the country, is a section giving the president authority to transfer the guard to the regular army and then send it wherever the war cloud is lowering. Pepper has injected into his reasons for the bill considerable military spirit. He bases his argument on the theory that the country needs a militant fighting force made up of well trained young men, and that the national guard is the logical defense for the country's wealth and resources.

The strength of the national guard in the various states is approximately 120,000 officers and men. Missouri has 248 officers and 2,462 enlisted men. Kansas, 139 officers and 1,656 men.

To Improve the Service.

If the Pepper bill is passed by congress, which seems probable, the men would receive neat sums twice each year in return for their faithful attendance upon drill. The pay would range from $45 to $200 a year, according to rank. Certain qualifications of service also are required under the Pepper bill before any guardsman can receive federal pay. He must attend 48 drills each year to receive the maximum, and for a less number of drills deductions are made. If less than 20 drills are attended no compensation will be allowed.

MOTOR ACCIDENT MAY BE FATAL

Five Persons Injured When Car Turned Over in Road Near St. Joseph.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 1.—Five persons were injured, two of them probably fatally, when a motor car in which they were driving from Maryville, Mo., to St. Joseph, struck a stick of cordwood in the road a short distance south of Savannah and turned over. Buman Wells was driving the car and his head was so badly cut that he bled almost to death before a doctor could reach him. His mother, Mrs. W. R. Wells, suffered a crushed ankle and her face was cut. Both were brought to Ensworth hospital and no hope of their recovery is entertained.

The other members of the party were less seriously injured.

NO FOREIGN NAVAL BASE HERE

JAPAN AND OTHER COUNTRIES TO BE WARNED.

Magdalena Bay Incident Arouses Senate to Oppose Purchases by Any Foreign Power.

Washington, Aug. 1.—The senate foreign relations committee adopted without dissent Senator Lodge's recommendation that the United States reaffirm the Monroe Doctrine in terms clear to all the world, and adopted a resolution to express disapproval of the purchase of any possible naval bases on the American continent by any foreign power.

The senate, in an early report, will be asked to indorse the committee's stand. A firm statement by the United States is asked for as a result of the Magdalena bay incident, where it was shown that a Japanese syndicate had been negotiating for 4,000,000 acres of land along the west coast of lower California in Mexico.

The Lodge resolution, which probably will be adopted, declares that the United States cannot see, "without grave concern," any harbor or advantageous spot in the Western Hemisphere taken over by a foreign government, or by a foreign corporation bearing close relation to the government, if such occupancy would threaten the commerce or the safety of the United States.

Magdalena bay is considered the most advantageously located naval base on the Pacific coast, because of its relation to the western terminus of the Panama canal.

MR. TAFT ACCEPTS THE NOMINATION

President's Speech to Senator Root and His Committee.

CAMPAIGN ISSUES DEFINED

Achievements of the Republican Party in This and Previous Administrations Lauded—Agitation by Democrats and Progressives is Denounced.

Washington, Aug. 1.—President Taft today was formally notified of his nomination by the Republican convention in Chicago, and formally accepted the honor. The committee, headed by Senator Root, called on the president at the White House. Mr. Taft's speech of acceptance was carefully prepared for use as a campaign document. It was in part as follows:

Mr. Root and Gentlement of the Notification Committee:

I accept the nomination which you tender. I do so with profound gratitude to the Republican party, which has thus honored me twice. I accept it as an approval of what I have done under its mandate, and as an expression of confidence that in a second administration I will serve the public well. The issue presented to the convention, over which your chairman presided with such a just and even hand, made a crisis in the party's life. A faction sought to force the party to violate a valuable and time-honored national tradition by entrusting the power of the presidency for more than two terms to one man, and that man, one whose recently avowed political views would have committed the party to radical proposals involving dangerous changes in our present constitutional form of representative government and our independent judiciary.

Achievements of the Party.

This occasion is appropriate for the expression of profound gratitude at the victory for the right which was won at Chicago. By that victory, the Republican party was saved for future usefulness. It has been the party through which substantially all the progress and development in our country's history in the last fifty years has been finally effected. It carried the country through the war which saved the Union, and through the greenback and silver crazes to a sound gold basis, which saved the country's honor and credit. It fought the Spanish war and successfully solved the new problems of our island possessions. It met the incidental evils of the enormous trade expansion and extended combinations of capital from 1897 until now by a successful crusade against the attempt of concentrated wealth to control the country's politics and its trade. It enacted regulatory legislation to make the railroads the servants and not the masters of the people. It has enforced the anti-trust laws until those who were not content with anything but monopolistic control of various branches of industry are now acquiescent in any plan which shall give them scope for legitimate expansion and assure them immunity from reckless prosecution.

The list of legislative enactments for the uplifting of those of our people suffering a disadvantage in their social and economic relation to others enacted by the Republican party in this and previous administrations is a long one, and shows the party sensitive to the needs of the people under the new view of governmental responsibility.

Public Mind Inflamed.

In the work of rousing the people to the danger that threatened our civilization from the abuses of concentrated wealth and the power it was likely to exercise, the public imagination was wrought upon and a reign of sensational journalism and unjust and unprincipled muckraking has followed, in which much injustice has been done to honest men. Demagogues have seized the opportunity further to inflame the public mind and have sought to turn the peculiar conditions to their advantage.

We are living in an age in which by exaggeration of the defects of our present condition, by false charges of responsibility for it against individuals and classes, by holding up to the feverish imagination of the less fortunate and the discontented the possibilities of a millennium, a condition of popular unrest has been produced. New parties are being formed, with the proposed purpose of satisfying this unrest by promising a panacea. In so far as inequality of condition can be lessened and equality of opportunity can be promoted by improvement of our educational system, the betterment of the laws to insure the quick administration of justice, and by the prevention of the acquisition of privilege without just compensation, in so far as the adoption of the legislation above recited and laws of a similar character may aid the less fortunate in their struggle with the hardships of life, all are in sympathy with a continued effort to remedy injustice and to aid the weak, and I venture to say that there is no national administration in which more real steps of such progress have been taken than in the present one. But in so far as the propaganda for the satisfaction of unrest involves the promise of a millennium, a condition in which the rich are to be made reasonably poor and the poor reasonably rich by the law, we are chasing a phantom; we are holding out to those whose unrest we fear a prospect and a dream, a vision of the impossible.

Looks Like Socialism.

In the ultimate analysis, I fear, the equal opportunity which those seek who proclaim the coming of so-called social justice involves a forced division of property, and that means socialism. As to the abuses of the last two decades it is true that ill-gotten wealth has been concentrated in some undeserving hands, and that if it were possible to redistribute it on any equitable principle to those from whom it was taken without adequate or proper compensation it would be a good result to bring about. But this is obviously impossible and impracticable. All that can be done is to treat this as one incidental evil of a great expansive movement in the material progress of the world and to make sure that there will be no recurrence of such evil.

In this regard we have made great progress and reform, as in respect to secret rebates in railways, the improper conferring of public franchises, and the immunity of monopolizing trusts and combinations. The misfortunes of ordinary business, the division of the estates of wealthy men at their death, the chances of speculation which undue good fortune seems often to stimulate, operating as causes through a generation, will do much to divide up such large fortunes. It is far better to await the elimination of this evil by natural causes than to attempt what would soon take on the aspect of confiscation or to abolish the principle and institution of private property and to change to socialism. Socialism involves the taking away of the motive for acquisition, saving, energy, and enterprise, and a futile attempt by committees to apportion the rewards due for productive labor. It means stagnation and retrogression. It destroys the mainspring of human action that has carried the world on and upward for 2,000 years.

Opponents Offer No Remedy.

I do not say that the two gentlemen who now lead, one the Democratic party and the other the former Republicans who have left their party, in their attacks upon existing conditions, and in their attempt to satisfy the popular unrest by promises of remedies, are consciously embracing socialism. The truth is that they do not offer any definite legislation or policy by which the happy conditions they promise are to be brought about, but if their promises mean anything, they lead directly toward the appropriation of what belongs to one man to another. The truth is, my friends, both those who have left the Republican party under the inspiration of their present leader, and our old opponents, the Democrats, under their candidate, are going in a direction they do not definitely know, toward an end they can not definitely describe, with but one chief and clear object, and that is of acquiring power for their party by popular support through the promise of a change for the better. What they clamor for is a change. They ask for a change in government so that the government may be restored to the people, as if this had not been a people's government since the beginning of the constitution. I have the fullest sympathy with every reform in governmental and election machinery which shall facilitate the expression of the popular will as the short ballot and the reduction in elective offices to make it possible. But these gentlemen propose to reform the government, whose present defects, if any, are due to the failure of the people to devote as much time as is necessary to their political duties, by requiring a political activity by the people three times that which thus far the people have been willing to assume; and thus they propose remedies which, instead of exciting the people to further interest and activity in the government, will tire them into such an indifference as still further to remand control of public affairs to a minority.

Hostility to Judiciary.

Instead of giving us the benefit of any specific remedies for the hardships and evils of society they point out, they follow their urgent appeals for closer association of the people in legislation by an attempt to cultivate the hostility of the people to the courts and to represent that they are in some form upholding injustice and are obstructing the popular will. Attempts are made to take away all those safeguards for maintaining the independence of the judiciary which are so carefully framed in our constitution. These attempts find expression in the policy, on the one hand, of the recall of judges, a system under which a judge whose decision in one case may temporarily displease the electorate is to be deprived at once of his office by a popular vote, a pernicious system embodied in the Arizona constitution and which the Democrats of the house and senate refused to condemn as the initial policy of a new state. The same spirit manifested itself in the vote by Democratic senators on the proposition first, to [illegible] the commerce court, and, second, to [illegible]ish judges by mere act of [illegible]ough under the constitution their terms are for life, on no ground except that they did not like some of the court's recent decisions.

Another form of hostility to the judiciary is shown in the grotesque proposition by the leader of former Republicans who have left their party, for a recall of decisions, so that a decision on a point of constitutional law, having been rendered by the highest court capable of rendering it, shall then be submitted to popular vote to determine whether it ought to be sustained.

Again, the Democratic party in congress and convention shows its desire to weaken the courts by forbidding the use of the writ of injunction to protect a lawful business against the destructive effect of a secondary boycott and by interposing a jury in contempt proceedings brought to enforce its order and decrees. These provisions are really class legislation designed to secure immunity for lawlessness in labor disputes on the part of the laborers, but operating much more widely to paralyze the arm of the court in cases which do not involve labor disputes at all. The hostility to the judiciary and the measures to take away its power and its independence constitute the chief definite policy that can be fairly attributed to that class of statesmen and reformers whose absorption and control the Republican party escaped at Chicago and the Democratic party yielded to at Baltimore.

Such Innovations Rejected.

The Republican party, Mr. Taft continued, stands for none of these innovations. It refuses to make changes simply for the purpose of making a change, and cultivating popular hope that in the change something beneficial, undefined, will take place. The Republican party believes in progress along the lines upon which we have attained progress already.

The president then devoted some time to a review of what has been accomplished during his administration, including a warm defense of the Payne tariff bill. In conclusion he said:

I can not think that the American people, after the scrutiny and education of a three-months' campaign, during which they will be able to see through the fog of misrepresentation and demagoguery, will fail to recognize that the two great issues which are here presented to them are first, whether we shall retain, on a sound and permanent basis, our popular constitutional representative form of government, with the independence of the judiciary as a necessary key to the preservation of those liberties that are the inheritance of 1,000 years, and, second, whether we shall welcome prosperity which is just at our door by maintaining our present economic business basis and by the encouragement of business expansion and progress through legitimate use of capital.

Appeal to All Conservatives.

I know that in this wide country there are many who call themselves Democrats, who view, with the same aversion that we Republicans do, the radical propositions of change in our form of government that are recklessly advanced to satisfy what is supposed to be popular clamor. They are men who revere the constitution and the institutions of their government with all the love and respect that we could possibly have, men who deprecate disturbance in business conditions, and are yearning for that quiet from demagogic agitation which is essential to the enjoyment by the whole people of the great prosperity which the good crops and the present conditions ought to bring to us. To them I appeal, as to all Republicans, to join us in an earnest effort to avert the political and economic revolution and business paralysis which Republican defeat will bring about. Such misfortune will fall most heavily on the wage earner. May we not hope that he will see what his real interest is, understand the shallowness of attacks upon existing institutions and deceitful promises of undefined benefits by undefined changes?

May we not hope that the great majority of voters will be able to distinguish between the substance of performance and the fustian of promise; that they may be able to see that those who would deliberately stir up discontent and create hostility toward those who are conducting legitimate business enterprises, and who represent the business progress of the country, are sowing dragons' teeth? Who are the people? They are not alone the unfortunate and the weak; they are the weak and the strong, the poor and the rich, and the many who are neither, the wage earner and the capitalist, the farmer and the professional man, the merchant and the manufacturer, the storekeeper and the clerk, the railroad manager and the employe—they all make up the people and they all contribute to the running of the government, and they have not any of them given into the hands of anyone the mandate to speak for them as peculiarly the people's representative. Especially does not he represent them who, assuming that the people are the unfortunate and discontented, would stir them up against the remainder of those whose government alike this is. In other campaigns before this, the American people have been confused and misled and diverted from the truth and from a clear perception of their welfare by specious appeals to their prejudices and their misunderstanding, but the clarifying effect of a campaign of education, the pricking of the bubble of demogogic promise which the discussions of a campaign made possible, have brought the people to a clear perception of their own interests and to a rejection of the injurious nostrums that, in the beginning of the campaign, it was then feared, they might embrace and adopt. So may we not expect in the issues which are now before us that the ballots cast in November shall show a prevailing majority in favor of sound progress, great prosperity upon a protective basis and under true constitutional and representative rule by the p[illegible]

A Dangerous Orchard Pest.

The evergreen bagworm is proving to be a serious menace to orchardists, nurserymen, and small fruit growers in several sections of Missouri and other states. The fact that the infested territory is constantly increasing has led the college of agriculture to publish a bulletin telling how the pest may be held in check. The bulletin gives in detail the life history of the evergreen bagworm and describes the various means of control at different stages in its life cycle. Attention is called to the fact that not only fruit trees, but ornamental shrubbery and shade trees are destroyed by it. It is fully as destructive in the city as in the country. The bulletin is No. 104. Write to the agricultural experiment station, Columbia, Mo., for a copy. It is free.

THIS LADY'S GOOD APPETITE

Mrs. Hansen, In a Letter From Mobile, Tells How She Gained It.

Mobile, Ala.—"I suffered for seven years, with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. Sigurd Hansen in a letter from this city. "I felt weak and always had a headache and was always going to the doctor. At last I was operated on, and felt better, but soon I had the same trouble.

My husband asked me to try Cardui. I felt better after the first bottle, and now, I have a good appetite and sleep well. I feel fine, and the doctor tells me I am looking better than he ever saw me."

If you are sick and miserable, and suffer from any of the pains due to womanly trouble—try Cardui.

Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients that have been found to act curatively on the womanly constitution.

For more than fifty years, it has been used by women of all ages, with great success. Try it. Your druggist sells it.

Short Course in Dairying.

The rapid development of the dairy and creamery interests in Missouri has created a demand for a large number of trained men who understand every detail of the business. To meet this demand the college of agriculture has arranged to give a special short course in dairying. The course will train men to manage creameries and large private dairies. It will include the elements of dairying, milk production testing milk, cream and butter, dairy bacteriology, creamery butter making and ice cream making.

The term will open on January 6, 1913, and continue for seven weeks. It will be given regularly each winter hereafter. For particulars concerning the course write to C. H. Eckles, college of agriculture, Columbia, Mo.

ALL OUT OF DANGER

INJURED MEMBERS OF WELLS FAMILY GETTING ALONG NICELY.

CAUSED BY BURSTED TIRE

Mrs. I. W. Nixon, who was in the automobile accident south of Savannah Wednesday morning, when she accompanied her sister, Mrs. W. R. Wells, and son, Burman, and daughters, Misses Marie and Kathleen Wells, for a day's trip to St. Joseph, returned to Maryville Wednesday night.

Mrs. Nixon was able to be about her house Thursday morning, and is not suffering greatly from the bruises she received. She left her sister and other members of the family injured in Ensworth hospital at St. Joseph, and all were doing as well as the physicians could expect. A telephone message to her Thursday morning from the hospital Thursday morning, said that Mrs. Wells, Burman and Miss Marie, whose injuries were the most severe, had passed a restful night, and that the physicians in charge of their case consider them entirely out of danger.

Miss Marie's injuries are the most severe. There was a compound fracture of her right foot. The physicians removed several pieces of crushed bone while preparing the member to place in splints. Her body is badly bruised and she will have to remain at the hospital for several days before she will be able to be brought to her home in this city.

Mrs. Wells is doing very nicely. All of her injuries were about the head and shoulder. Her collar bone was not broken as reported and wounds on her face and about her eyes are not deep enough to cause disfigurement. She will be able to return home in a short time.

The 7-inch wound that Burman Wells received on the back of his head was not dangerous, other than it severed an artery and the loss of blood was his greatest danger. He is getting along and is able to walk about the hospital.

Miss Kathleen Wells escaped without injury of any kind, other than the fright.

Mrs. Nixon said that the account given in The Democrat-Forum Wednesday of the accident was practically correct, with the exception that where the report was given that the injured ones were unconscious until within a few minutes of the time they were taken to St. Joseph is not correct. She says that none of them were unconscious excepting Mrs. Wells, who lost consciousness for only a few minutes.

Mrs. Nixon also denies that her nephew was speeding the machine, as has been reported. She says they were going down hill at a moderate pace and the accident was caused by a flat tire, which they believed had been in that condition for some distance, as was shown by the condition of the tire upon examination after the accident.

Mr. W. R. Wells of this city, who had remained at home, joined his family in St. Joseph by train Wednesday evening and will remain until they are able to be brought home. His sons, Harry and Robert Wells, who drove to the scene of the accident in their car, left St. Joseph for home at 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

The entire Wells family and Mrs. Nixon are surprised that no deaths occurred, and are grateful that things are as well with them as they are, and all who were in Wednesday's accident are in cheerful mood and taking their injuries in the best possible manner.

Harry and Robert Wells returned to Maryville this afternoon from St. Joseph, about 2:30 o'clock. Mr. Wells stated his mother, sister and brother are not badly injured and are getting along nicely. He stated that the cause of the accident was two tires on the left side of the car burst at the same time, there being a hole in one tire ten inches long and one in the other five inches long. He said that the machine was not going more than fifteen miles an hour.

The automobile was not as badly damaged as one would expect. The hind wheel was broken, the two front fenders bent, the wind shield broken, and the steering wheel bent, and also the front axle. Since there was insurance on the car the insurance company took charge of the machine and is having the car repaired.

Burman Wells, one of the parties hurt in the accident, will come home from St. Joseph this evening, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wells in their car.

CAME HERE TO GET MARRIED.

But Being Under Age, Recorder Wray Would Not Issue the License.

Leon Groff, age 18, and Miss Pearl Dunlap, age 17, of Laurel, Ia., near Marshalltown, came to Maryville Thursday morning for the purpose of being married. They applied to Recorder Wray for a marriage license, and when they gave their ages Mr. Wray promptly informed them that they could not get a license here unless they had the consent of their parents. The young lady told Mr. Wray that she did not have her parents' consent, so Mr. Wray did not grant the license.

A short time after this Mr. Wray received a telegram from the cheriff at Marshalltown, Ia., wanting to know if these parties had secured the license. Mr. Wray replied and told the sheriff that they had not.

The young couple eloped from home and the young girl's parents were strongly opposed to the match, because of their youth. They left Maryville Thursday morning on the Wabash train and the young man said that he was going to marry the girl or break a string. They were returning to their home.

UNCLE SAM IS AFTER THEM.

Individuals Who Have Been Using Postoffice to Conceal Identity Will Be Sopped.

No more flirtations via the general delivery window! Bessie and Mabel and Maudie can't get mail at the general delivery window from the handsome traveling man they met without ma and pa knowing all about it, says the Columbia Daily Tribune. Neither can pa have his mail delivered down at the general delivery window to keep ma from seeing where it is from.

The man who "found" your dog can't have you address him through the general delivery any more.

Uncle Sam has sent out orders to the postmasters to see that the general delivery windows are not used for such purpose.

The attention of postmasters at offices having city carrier service is called to the section in the postal laws and regulations, compliance with which should prevent the improper use of the general delivery by residents, the order reads. It further says the postmasters at such offices may require all persons supposed to be residents to furnish in writing their names and addresses and statements of their reasons for preferring to be served at the general delivery.

The order issued is also designed to stop flirting and other clandestine correspondence carried on through the general delivery.

The order also refers to minors, and says the parents should be notified if their children are acting suspicious about their mail. This last order has always been in effect.

The order further reads:

Postmasters at offices not having city carrier service may notify the parents of minors in all instances where it appears that the miners are calling at the general delivery for mail under objectionable circumstances.

Section 625 postal laws and regulations should be carefully observed in cases where fictitious names are used.

General delivery clerks should be instructed to use their best judgment and to submit to the postmaster any case concerning which they are in doubt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Joy of Elmo spent Thursday in the city.

DON'T LIKE WRITE-UP

MRS. MARTS OBJECTS TO TRIBUNE REPORTER'S VERSION OF STORY

NO SLOP BUCKET THERE

When She Said She Didn't Know He Told Her "You Know if You Wanted to Tell."

Indignant at the way in which the Tribune has been "playing up" the facts of her life, and especially over the way in which the article in that paper for Monday, July 29th, was written, Mrs. Al Marts writes the following letter of self-defense to The Democrat-Forum:

To The Democrat-Forum: In regard to the piece that was in the Tribune, there was several lies in it. If the history of my life was put in that paper as it really was, I wouldn't care so much; but there hasn't been one piece put in that paper correct. As for me pulling little 2-year-old Hazel from the slop bucket once in a while, there was no slop bucket in the house. And all those questions were asked me. I answered some of them, but the most of them were answered in this way. "The least said the better."

MRS. MARTS.

In talking to a reporter of The Democrat-Forum, Mrs. Marts was very bitter against the Tribune's treatment of her case.

"They never wrote a thing like I told it," she said. "That man stayed here about an hour asking me all kinds of questions, and I said I didn't know, and he said, 'You know if you wanted to tell.' That thing about the slop bucket makes me feel bad and makes people think this house is as dirty as a hog pen, which it isn't."

And it wasn't, either. Everything was as neat and clean as could be. Mrs. Marts was ironing, and little piles of baby clothes, simple yet dainty, and spotless in their fluffy cleanliness only served to bring out more strongly than ever the good housewifery that kept the place in order.

On being questioned as to whether she would bring any action against Mr. Marts, she said:

"I don't know. I don't think I will."

Mrs. Marts said that she did not know yet when she would leave nor to what place she would go.

Friday and Saturday will be political days, and many speeches will be given by the candidates. Congressman Booher is to speak Saturday, as will also his opponent, B. R. Martin.

Z. Rayburn of Jefferson City was in Maryville Thursday in the interest of the candidacy of James A. Houchin for the Democratic nomination for governor. Mr. Rayburn announced that Hon. George W. Maxwell of Albany would speak at the Barnard picnic on Friday in the interest of Mr. Houchin.

They will stop in Lamar, Col., to spend a few days with Hrs. Henry McCulliff, formerly Miss Hazel Cunningham of Maryville. Mr. McCulliffe is a cousin of Miss Doran.

Only 12 Marriage Licenses for Month.

Recorder Wray did not have a rushing business for July issuing marriage licenses. There were only twelve licenses granted as compared with seventeen issued in July, 1911.

Mrs. R. M. Black went to St. Joseph Wednesday to meet her son, S. E. Black of Kansas City, who brought his three children that far on their way for a visit in Maryville of several weeks with their grandparents.

RAINFALL BELOW NORMAL.

July Record Was BaBd, Only One Rain of Consequence Having Fallen During the Month.

The July rainfall was far below the average, amounting to only 1.09 inches. Rain has fallen on eight days in that month, but there was only one good rain, on July 21, when .75 of an inch fell. The following are the days in that month when rain fell:

July 6, .15 of an inch; July 13, .1; July 21, .75; July 27, .05; July 29, .04.

The hottest days in the month were July 14, when the temperature went up to 102, and July 23, when it was 100.

The rainfall for July of last year amounted to 3.38 inches, the drought of last year having been broken by a good rain on July 23, and another one a few days later. But the temperature of last July went away up to 108, that being on July 5. There were seven days about that date when the temperature was 100 or more.

For June, 1912, the rainfall was 2.16 inches.

MERCHANTS ARE FOR IT.

Strong in Favor of the "White Way" for Main Street—To Come Up at City Council.

The business men along the west side of the square are in favor of the "White Way," and have promised to help out in buying the posts and lights for this one block. The county court will be seen about helping out on the west side of the court house yard, and if favorable, then steps will be taken to put in the lights for this one block.

The matter will probably be put up to the city council at their meeting Friday evening. The people interested think that if they can get the "White Way" started that other business men would join in getting it for their block. A representative of King's foundry at St. Joseph, K. G. Rennie, was in the city Thursday, talking the matter of the "White Way" up with several people.

SEVERAL ARRESTS MADE

By Marshal Moberly of Auto Drivers Who Are Violating Auto Ordinance.

Four warrants were issued Thursday for the arrest of autoists charged with violating the auto ordinance adopted some weeks ago by the city council. They were for F. P. Reuillard, charged with running his car without a tail light; Dr. McLoud, charged with the same offense as Mr. Reuillard; Charles Moore, also charged with the same offense, and A. O. Mason, charged with exceeding the speed limit.

Marshal Moberly and the city authorities intend to enforce the auto ordinance, and are to use every effort to do so. Many complaints have been made by the people in regard to the fast driving by the autoists.

Big Average in Rye.

Threshers were at work in the rye fields of Hubert Conway, Wednesday, one mile west of Maryville, and the yield proved surprisingly large, as well as of exceptionally fine quality. Mr. Conway had twenty-five acres in rye that averaged 32 4-5 bushels per acre, a remarkable yield for this country.

Miss Marie Livasy of Pickering came to Maryville Wednesday evening and is a guest at the home of her siser, Mrs. Frank Ewing, and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Snodgrass, where two other young girls, from Kansas City, Miss Blanche Ewing and Miss Violet Sheehan, are visiting.

Required to Take Oath They Will Support Nominees of Party, So Attorney General Says.

In a letter written by Campbell Cummins, assistant attorney general at Jefferson City, he gave it as his opinion that those that signed the Roosevelt petitions for the new party would be unable to vote at the primary to be held on next Tuesday. The letter read as follows:

We are in receipt of your favor of the 17th inst. relative to the right of Roosevelt petitioners to vote at the coming primary of the Republicans and Democrats, and to the right of challenging the same.

Your inquiry is answered by section 5871, R. S., 1909, which reads as follows:

"No persons shall be entitled to vote at any primary unless a qualified elector of the precinct and duly registered therein, if registration thereat be required by law, and known to affiliate with the political party named at the head of the ticket he calls for, and attempts to vote, or obligates himself to support the nominees of said party at the following general election."

In addition to this, section 5873, R. S., 1909, contains the following provisions:

"It shall be the duty of the challengers to challenge and the duty of the judges of the election to reject the ballot of any person attempting to vote other than the ticket of the party with which he is known to affiliate, unless such person, when challenged, obligates himself by oath or affirmation, administered by one of the judges, to support the party nominees of the ticket he is voting in the following general election. All judges of election shall have authority and are empowered to administer such oath or affirmation, and any person offering to vote who shall fail or refuse to take or make such oath or affirmation when demanded by such challenger, or required by any judge, shall not be allowed to vote at such primary election." Very truly yours,

CAMPBELL CUMMINS,
Assistant Attorney General.

CANAL OPENING MAY BE DELAYED

Grave Fears Big Ditch Will Not be Ready in 1913.

CONGRESS IS HOLDING BACK

Unless Contention Over Tolls is Settled Quickly Army Engineers See No Hope of Finishing Work in Time.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Unless congress takes action to provide for the operation of the Panama canal at the present session, President Taft and Secretary of War Stimson believe it will be practically impossible for the army engineers to keep their promise to open "the big ditch" to the ships of the world next year.

According to the information just brought to the White house the prospect of action by congress on canal legislation at this session is growing dimmer.

There seems little contention over the proposed administration and operation of the canal, but the questions of tolls and of railroad owned steamships have stirred up controversy in both houses, and neither the president nor his secretary of war seem hopeful of settling it.

Bill Referred Again.

The Panama bill was put aside again in the senate after Senator Brandegee, who is guiding it, stated that adjournment probably would be hastened if it were considered in the senate while the postoffice bill was in conference; but the only ray of comfort that flitted through to the White house was the news that Representative Adamson of Georgia, chairman of the house committee on interstate commerce, was considering the introduction of a joint resolution providing for the machinery of administration and operation of the canal. Mr. Adamson was understood to be ready to bring in such a resolution, whenever it becomes apparent that there is no chance of a compromise and the two houses become deadlocked over the other questions.

President is Worried.

President Taft was much concerned over the prospect of a delay in the opening of the canal.

In many speeches he has made since he became president, he has predicted that the Atlanic and the Pacific would be joined at Panama in 1913 and at one time the president believed that he would be able to steam through the canal on the old battleship Oregon, when the formal opening was celebrated, during his present term in the White house.

So far the president has refused to write a special message to congress on the subject of the canal. Within the last few days, however, members of the house have notified him they would oppose any legislation in regard to Panama that did not settle all the matters involved. It is now said that he might decide to send in a special message.

MR. TAFT OFFICIALLY NOTIFIED

With Much Pomp and Ceremony Committee Informs President of His Nomination.

Washington, August 1.—With all the ceremony and political pomp with which the occasion has been invested by successive years of Republican administration, President Taft was officially notified today that he had been selected as the presidential nominee of the Republican party for the coming term of office.

Attired in a suit of summer flannels, Mr. Taft received the notification committee of the Republican national committee, headed by Senator Root, on the rear portico of the White House overlooking the Elipse and the Washington monument. The president listened to the report of the notification committee and then replied at length, pledging his support to the party and thanking it individually and collectively for the honor which was conferred upon him at Chicago. During the president's speech the members of the committee grouped themselves around the lower step of the portico and listened attentively to the remarks of the chief executive.

The formalities were opened with a short address by Senator Root, in which the permanent chairman of the convention told of the choice of President Taft as the nominee and then formally tendered the nomination—nicely engraved on parchment—to the chief executive.

OROZCO HAS BECOME DEFIANT

Ignores United States Consul and Refuses to Recognize Government —Salazar Fails to Stop Looting.

Mexico City, Aug. 1.—Two Americans were hanged near Cananea, Sonora, within the past 48 hours. Their bodies were found and the incident reported to President Madero by the governor of Sonora. The governor has ordered an investigation. He believes the two men were executed by rebels in order to precipitate American intervention. The victims have not been identified.

Executed for Robbing Mormons.

Casas Grandes, Chihuahua, Aug. 1.—Rebel soldiers looted many homes of Mormons near here. Nearly all of the Mormon families have fled to El Paso. Although General Salazar had two of his soldiers executed for robbing Mormons, he has not made any attempt to stop his men looting the unprotected homes of Americans.

Orozco is Haughty.

Juarez, Mex., Aug. 1.—Gen. Pascual Orozco, commander-in-chief of the Mexican rebels coolly declared that he did not recognize the United States government. He made the remark to Thomas Edwards, American consul here, who called at the rebel leader's quarters to deliver a message from Secretary of State Knox.

The message from Washington, belated through diplomatic channels, was regarding the treatment of the American settlers in northern Mexico by the rebels, growing out of the disarming of the Mormon colonists last week.

Gen. Orozco told the consul that he did not receive him as a representative of the United States, which government, Orozco said, he did not recognize. However, he was glad to see Mr. Edwards, he said, and to receive him as an American citizen. Orozco accepted the message from the American consul without further comment. Edwards then excusing himself, left the room.

Refugees Still Fleeing.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 1.—Another special train bearing 400 refugees from the American settlements in the Casas Grandes district has just arrived here. This makes more than 1,500 refugees, mostly women and children, stranded in this city.

The refugees report that at Pearson, 260 miles southwest of the border, hundreds of refugees are mobilizing from the mountain settlements. A group of 100 arriving at Pearson from Colonia Garcia reported that three babies were born on the journey, the mothers suffering great hardships on the ride in rough farm wagons.

FARMER ASKS POISON INQUIRY

Owner of Missouri Farm Where 19 Have Been Made Sick, Wants to Know Cause.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 1.—A series of mysterious poisonings at the home of J. R. Giddons, a farmer near here, were reported to the county authorities by Mr. Giddons, who asked that an investigation be made.

Within the last month 19 persons have been poisoned there, but there has been only one death, Mrs. Laura Leavitt, the aged mother of Giddons.

Sixteen neighbors who remained all night with the family took breakfast there and an hour later 14 of them were taken violently ill.

Several days ago a family traveling across the country in a covered wagon stopped at Giddons' house for the night and next morning all became so ill they were sent to a hospital.

At first it was believed the water from the well on the place was contaminated, but an alalysis proved it to be of more than average purity. Samples of milk also were shown to be pure and the case is baffling the entire neighborhood.

Seized Six Canadian Boats.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 1.—Six Frazier river salmon fishing boats were seized off Point Roberts by a United States revenue cutter on the ground that they were operating in American waters. The occupants of the boats asserted that they were on the Canadian side of the boundary.

"Kimmel" Signs as John Doe.

St. Louis, Aug. 1.—The man claiming to be George A. Kimmel, the missing Niles, Mich., banker, registered at a hotel here as "John Doe" from "Anywhere." The clerk asked that Kimmel pay for his room in advance, and in doing so he displayed a big roll of bills.

LUMBER TRUST IS NOT A MYTH

REPORT OF MISSOURI SPECIAL COMMISSIONER FILED.

Twenty-Nine Companies Are Declared Guilty of Violating Anti-Trust Laws of State.

Jefferson City, Aug. 1.—Under the finding of the special supreme court commissioner, Robert M. Reynolds, just filed with the clerk of the Missouri supreme court, 29 lumber companies doing business in this state are guilty of violating the anti-trust and anti-discrimination laws. Of that number 22 are Missouri corporations in Kansas City and St. Louis, seven are outside corporations doing business in this state under a license.

The original prosecution against the lumber companies was instituted by Gov. Hadley while he was attorney general and included 42 companies. Some of them have ceased to do business and were dropped from the prosecution from time to time. Attorney General Major took up the prosecution, and, assisted by the late Judge James B. Gantt and the assistant attorney general, John M. Atkinson, devoted some 15 months to getting evidence.

Although several states have instituted proceedings under anti-trust laws against lumber companies alleged to be in an unlawful combination, the present is the first decisive victory for the prosecution.

In this it seems, as in the suits against the oil companies and the harvester trust, Missouri has taken the initiative and succeeded. Judge Reynold's finding will, of course, have to be approved by the supreme court and that tribunal, if it affirms his rulings, will specify the punishment to be inflicted, which will be a fine in each case, or a fine and ouster combined.

FRISCO'S "METEOR" IN DITCH

Three Coaches Upside Down at Bottom of Deep Fill—27 Injured. But None Killed.

Springfield, Mo., Aug. 1.—Leaving the track just after the engine had passed over a bridge between Wetumba and Alabama, Ok., three coaches of Frisco passenger train No. 519, known as the Meteor, were overturned and lay upside down at the foot of a 50-foot fill. Eight white passengers and 19 negroes were injured in the wreck, although it is believed, from reports received here, that none will result fatally. The passengers injured were riding in the second class compartments or in the combination smoker-coach. A chair car, one Pullman and the private car of E. Levy, Frisco assistant general manager remained intact.

Trailed a Thief 2,000 Miles.

Calgary, Alberta, Aug. 1.—Pursued for four months through the wilds of northern Canada by members of the Northwest Mounted Police, Will Ropp, said by the authorities to be the most notorious rustler and cattle thief in the wester country, has been arrested and is in the barracks here awaiting trial. The chase covered nearly 2,000 miles and was remarkable for the persistency with which the police followed the trail of the fugitive through the trackless northwest country.

To Hold a Corn Fete.

Atchison, Kan., Aug. 1.—Atchison merchants decided to have one of the old time corn carnivals this fall, the same kind that Ed Howe started several years ago. The carnival will be held three days in the latter part of September. The prospects for a large corn crop make it possible.

Hutchinson a Woodman Camp.

Hutchinson, Kan., Aug. 1.—Hutchinson was chosen as the location for the permanent camp of the new Kansas Federation of Woodmen here after the Kansas Woodmen seceded from the national organization of Modern Wodmen of America.

MORE MONEY FOR MILITIA

Pepper Bill Would Give Missouri and Kansas Guards Increase.

INTENDED TO IMPROVE SERVICE

Proposed Law Will Place Men on Same Footing as Regular Army, With Rewards for Faithful Attention to Drills.

Washington, Aug. 1.—A total of $414,538 will be placed in the pockets of the members of the national guard of Missouri and Kansas annually in addition to the pay now received by the citizen soldiers if the Pepper militia pay bill becomes a law. The bill is explained in an exhaustive report submitted to the house by Representative Pepper of Iowa.

The amount Missouri would receive under the proposed law is $290,678 and Kansas, $124,160. The present appropriation to the guard of the various states is $4,000,000 annually. Adding this to the additional appropriation provided by the Pepper bill, based upon a maximum of $8,000,000, would make a total of $12,000,000.

For a War Footing.

The most important feature of the Pepper bill, and one that appeals to guardsmen throughout the country, is a section giving the president authority to transfer the guard to the regular army and then send it wherever the war cloud is lowering. Pepper has injected into his reasons for the bill considerable military spirit. He bases his argument on the theory that the country needs a militant fighting force made up of well trained young men, and that the national guard is the logical defense for the country's wealth and resources.

The strength of the national guard in the various states is approximately 120,000 officers and men. Missouri has 248 officers and 2,462 enlisted men. Kansas, 139 officers and 1,656 men.

To Improve the Service.

If the Pepper bill is passed by congress, which seems probable, the men would receive neat sums twice each year in return for their faithful attendance upon drill. The pay would range from $45 to $200 a year, according to rank. Certain qualifications of service also are required under the Pepper bill before any guardsman can receive federal pay. He must attend 48 drills each year to receive the maximum, and for a less number of drills deductions are made. If less than 20 drills are attended no compensation will be allowed.

MOTOR ACCIDENT MAY BE FATAL

Five Persons Injured When Car Turned Over in Road Near St. Joseph.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 1.—Five persons were injured, two of them probably fatally, when a motor car in which they were driving from Maryville, Mo., to St. Joseph, struck a stick of cordwood in the road a short distance south of Savannah and turned over. Buman Wells was driving the car and his head was so badly cut that he bled almost to death before a doctor could reach him. His mother, Mrs. W. R. Wells, suffered a crushed ankle and her face was cut. Both were brought to Ensworth hospital and no hope of their recovery is entertained.

The other members of the party were less seriously injured.

NO FOREIGN NAVAL BASE HERE

JAPAN AND OTHER COUNTRIES TO BE WARNED.

Magdalena Bay Incident Arouses Senate to Oppose Purchases by Any Foreign Power.

Washington, Aug. 1.—The senate foreign relations committee adopted without dissent Senator Lodge's recommendation that the United States reaffirm the Monroe Doctrine in terms clear to all the world, and adopted a resolution to express disapproval of the purchase of any possible naval bases on the American continent by any foreign power.

The senate, in an early report, will be asked to indorse the committee's stand. A firm statement by the United States is asked for as a result of the Magdalena bay incident, where it was shown that a Japanese syndicate had been negotiating for 4,000,000 acres of land along the west coast of lower California in Mexico.

The Lodge resolution, which probably will be adopted, declares that the United States cannot see, "without grave concern," any harbor or advantageous spot in the Western Hemisphere taken over by a foreign government, or by a foreign corporation bearing close relation to the government, if such occupancy would threaten the commerce or the safety of the United States.

Magdalena bay is considered the most advantageously located naval base on the Pacific coast, because of its relation to the western terminus of the Panama canal.

MR. TAFT ACCEPTS THE NOMINATION

President's Speech to Senator Root and His Committee.

CAMPAIGN ISSUES DEFINED

Achievements of the Republican Party in This and Previous Administrations Lauded—Agitation by Democrats and Progressives Is Denounced.

Washington, Aug. 1.—President Taft today was formally notified of his nomination by the Republican convention in Chicago, and formally accepted the honor. The committee, headed by Senator Root, called on the president at the White House. Mr. Taft's speech of acceptance was carefully prepared for use as a campaign document. It was in part as follows:

Mr. Root and Gentlement of the Notification Committee:

I accept the nomination which you tender. I do so with profound gratitude to the Republican party, which has thus honored me twice. I accept it as an approval of what I have done under its mandate, and as an expression of confidence that in a second administration I will serve the public well. The issue presented to the convention, over which your chairman presided with such a just and even hand, made a crisis in the party's life. A faction sought to force the party to violate a valuable and time-honored national tradition by entrusting the power of the presidency for more than two terms to one man, and that man, one whose recently avowed political views would have committed the party to radical proposals involving dangerous changes in our present constitutional form of representative government and our independent judiciary.

Achievements of the Party.

This occasion is appropriate for the expression of profound gratitude at the victory for the right which was won at Chicago. By that victory, the Republican party was saved for future usefulness. It has been the party through which substantially all the progress and development in our country's history in the last fifty years has been finally effected. It carried the country through the war which saved the Union, and through the greenback and silver crazes to a sound gold basis, which saved the country's honor and credit. It fought the Spanish war and successfully solved the new problems of our island possessions. It met the incidental evils of the enormous trade expansion and extended combinations of capital from 1897 until now by a successful crusade against the attempt of concentrated wealth to control the country's politics and its trade. It enacted regulatory legislation to make the railroads the servants and not the masters of the people. It has enforced the anti-trust laws until those who were not content with anything but monopolistic control of various branches of industry are now acquiescent in any plan which shall give them scope for legitimate expansion and assure them immunity from reckless prosecution.

The list of legislative enactments for the uplifting of those of our people suffering a disadvantage in their social and economic relation to others enacted by the Republican party in this and previous administrations is a long one, and shows the party sensitive to the needs of the people under the new view of governmental responsibility.

Public Mind Inflamed.

In the work of rousing the people to the danger that threatened our civilization from the abuses of concentrated wealth and the power it was likely to exercise, the public imagination was wrought upon and a reign of sensational journalism and unjust and unprincipled muckraking has followed, in which much injustice has been done to honest men. Demagogues have seized the opportunity further to inflame the public mind and have sought to turn the peculiar conditions to their advantage.

We are living in an age in which by exaggeration of the defects of our present condition, by false charges of responsibility for it against individuals and classes, by holding up to the feverish imagination of the less fortunate and the discontented the possibilities of a millennium, a condition of popular unrest has been produced. New parties are being formed, with the proposed purpose of satisfying this unrest by promising a panacea. In so far as inequality of condition can be lessened and equality of opportunity can be promoted by improvement of our educational system, the betterment of the laws to insure the quick administration of justice, and by the prevention of the acquisition of privilege without just compensation, in so far as the adoption of the legislation above recited and laws of a similar character may aid the less fortunate in their struggle with the hardships of life, all are in sympathy with a continued effort to remedy injustice and to aid the weak, and I venture to say that there is no national administration in which more real steps of such progress have been taken on than in the present one. But in so far as the propaganda for the satisfaction of unrest involves the promise of a millennium, a condition in which the rich are to be made reasonably poor and the poor reasonably rich by the law, we are chasing a phantom; we are holding out to those whose unrest we fear a prospect and a dream, a vision of the impossible.

Looks Like Socialism.

In the ultimate analysis, I fear, the equal opportunity which those seek who proclaim the coming of so-called social justice involves a forced division of property, and that means socialism. In the abuses of the last two decades it is true that ill-gotten wealth has been concentrated in some undeserving hands, and that if it were possible to redistribute it on any equitable principle to those from whom it was taken without adequate or proper compensation it would be a good result to bring about. But this is obviously impossible and impracticable. All that can be done is to treat this as one incidental evil of a great expansive movement in the material progress of the world and to make sure that there will be no recurrence of such evil.

In this regard we have made great progress and reform, as in respect to secret rebates in railways, the improper conferring of public franchises, and the immunity of monopolizing trusts and combinations. The misfortunes of ordinary business, the division of the estates of wealthy men at their death, the chances of speculation which undue good fortune seems often to stimulate, operating as causes through a generation, will do much to divide up such large fortunes. It is far better to await the elimination of this evil by natural causes than to attempt what would soon take on the aspect of confiscation or to abolish the principle and institution of private property and to change to socialism. Socialism involves the taking away of the motive for acquisition, saving, energy, and enterprise, and a futile attempt by committees to apportion the rewards due for productive labor. It means stagnation and retrogression. It destroys the mainspring of human action that has carried the world on and upward for 2,000 years.

Opponents Offer No Remedy.

I do not say that the two gentlemen who now lead, one the Democratic party and the other the former Republicans who have left their party, in their attacks upon existing conditions, and in their attempt to satisfy the popular unrest by promises of remedies, are consciously embracing socialism. The truth is that they do not offer any definite legislation or policy by which the happy conditions they promise are to be brought about, but if their promises mean anything, they lead directly toward the appropriation of what belongs to one man to another. The truth is, my friends, both those who have left the Republican party under the inspiration of their present leader, and our old opponents, the Democrats, under their candidate, are going in a direction they do not definitely know, toward an end they can not definitely describe, with but one chief and clear object, and that is of acquiring power for their party by popular support through the promise of a change for the better. What they clamor for is a change. They ask for a change in government so that the government may be restored to the people, as if this had not been a people's government since the beginning of the constitution. I have the fullest sympathy with every reform in governmental and election machinery which shall facilitate the expression of the popular will as the short ballot and the reduction in elective offices to make it possible. But these gentlemen propose to reform the government, whose present defects, if any, are due to the failure of the people to devote as much time as is necessary to their political duties, by requiring a political activity by the people three times that which thus far the people have been willing to assume; and thus they propose remedies which, instead of exciting the people to further interest and activity in the government, will tire them into such an indifference as still further to remand control of public affairs to a minority.

Hostility to Judiciary.

Instead of giving us the benefit of any specific remedies for the hardships and evils of society they point out, they follow their urgent appeals for closer association of the people in legislation by an attempt to cultivate the hostility of the people to the courts and to represent that they are in some form upholding injustice and are obstructing the popular will. Attempts are made to take away all those safeguards for maintaining the independence of the judiciary which are so carefully framed in our constitution. These attempts find expression in the policy, on the one hand, of the recall of judges, a system under which a judge whose decision in one case may temporarily displease the electorate is to be deprived at once of his office by a popular vote, a pernicious system embodied in the Arizona constitution and which the Democrats of the house and senate refused to condemn as the initial policy of a new state. The same spirit manifested itself in the vote by Democratic senators on the proposition first, to [illegible] the commerce court, and, second, to [illegible] judges by mere act of [illegible] though under the constitution their terms are for life, on no ground except that they did not like some of the court's recent decisions.

Another form of hostility to the judiciary is shown in the grotesque proposition by the leader of former Republicans who have left their party, for a recall of decisions, so that a decision on a point of constitutional law, having been rendered by the highest court capable of rendering it, shall then be submitted to popular vote to determine whether it ought to be sustained.

Again, the Democratic party in congress and convention shows its desire to weaken the courts by forbidding the use of the writ of injunction to protect a lawful business against the destructive effect of a secondary boycott and by interposing a jury in contempt proceedings brought to enforce its order and decrees. These provisions are really class legislation designed to secure immunity for lawlessness in labor disputes on the part of the laborers, but operating much more widely to paralyze the arm of the court in cases which do not involve labor disputes at all. The hostility to the judiciary and the measures to take away its power and its independence constitute the chief definite policy that can be fairly attributed to that class of statesmen and reformers whose absorption and control the Republican party escaped at Chicago and the Democratic party yielded to at Baltimore.

Such Innovations Rejected.

The Republican party, Mr. Taft continued, stands for none of these innovations. It refuses to make changes simply for the purpose of making a change, and cultivating popular hope that in the change something beneficial, undefined, will take place. The Republican party believes in progress along the lines upon which we have attained progress already.

The president then devoted some time to a review of what has been accomplished during his administration, including a warm defense of the Payne tariff bill. In conclusion he said:

I can not think that the American people, after the scrutiny and education of a three-months' campaign, during which they will be able to see through the fog of misrepresentation and demagoguery, will fail to recognize that the two great issues which are here presented to them are first, whether we shall retain on a sound and permanent basis our popular constitutional representative form of government, with the independence of the judiciary as a necessary key to the preservation of those liberties that are the inheritance of 1,000 years, and, second, whether we shall welcome prosperity which is just at our door by maintaining our present economic business basis and by the encouragement of business expansion and progress through legitimate use of capital.

Appeal to All Conservatives.

I know that in this wide country there are many who call themselves Democrats, who view, with the same aversion that we Republicans do, the radical propositions of change in our form of government that are recklessly advanced to satisfy what is supposed to be popular clamor. They are men who revere the constitution and the institutions of their government with all the love and respect that we could possibly have, men who deprecate disturbance in business conditions, and are yearning for that quiet from demagogic agitation which is essential to the enjoyment by the whole people of the great prosperity which the good crops and the present conditions ought to bring to us. To them I appeal, as to all Republicans, to join us in an earnest effort to avert the political and economic revolution and business paralysis which Republican defeat will bring about. Such misfortune will fall most heavily on the wage earner. May we not hope that he will see what his real interest is, understand the shallowness of attacks upon existing institutions and deceitful promises of undefined benefits by undefined changes?

May we not hope that the great majority of voters will be able to distinguish between the substance of performance and the fustian of promise; that they may be able to see that those who would deliberately stir up discontent and create hostility toward those who are conducting legitimate business enterprises, and who represent the business progress of the country, are sowing dragons' teeth? Who are the people? They are not alone the unfortunate and the weak; they are the weak and the strong, the poor and the rich, and the many who are neither, the wage earner and the capitalist, the farmer and the professional man, the merchant and the manufacturer, the storekeeper and the clerk, the railroad manager and the employe—they all make up the people and they all contribute to the running of the government, and they have not any of them given into the hands of anyone the mandate to speak for them as peculiarly the people's representative. Especially does not he represent them who, assuming that the people are the unfortunate and discontented, would stir them up against the remainder of those whose government alike this is. In other campaigns before this, the American people have been confused and misled and diverted from the truth and from a clear perception of their welfare by specious appeals to their prejudices and their misunderstanding, but the clarifying effect of a campaign of education, the pricking of the bubble of demogogic promise which the discussions of a campaign made possible, have brought the people to a clear perception of their own interests and to a rejection of the injurious nostrums that, in the beginning of the campaign, it was then feared, they might embrace and adopt. So may we not expect in the issues which are now before us that the ballots cast in November shall show a prevailing majority in favor of sound progress, great prosperity upon a protective basis, and under true constitutional and representative rule by the p[illegible]

A Dangerous Orchard Pest.

The evergreen bagworm is proving to be a serious menace to orchardists, nurserymen, and small fruit growers in several sections of Missouri and other states. The fact that the infested territory is constantly increasing has led the college of agriculture to publish a bulletin telling how the pest may be held in check. The bulletin gives in detail the life history of the evergreen bagworm and describes the various means of control at different stages in its life cycle. Attention is called to the fact that not only fruit trees, but ornamental shrubbery and shade trees are destroyed by it. It is fully as destructive in the city as in the country. The bulletin is No. 104. Write to the agricultural experiment station, Columbia, Mo., for a copy. It is free.

Short Course in Dairying.

The rapid development of the dairy and creamery interests in Missouri has created a demand for a large number of trained men who understand every detail of the business. To meet this demand the college of agriculture has arranged to give a special short course in dairying. The course will train men to manage creameries and large private dairies. It will include the elements of dairying, milk production testing milk, cream and butter, dairy bacteriology, creamery butter making and ice cream making.

The term will open on January 6, 1913, and continue for seven weeks. It will be given regularly each winter hereafter. For particulars concerning the course write to C. H. Eckles, college of agriculture, Columbia, Mo.
